Title: The Book of Administration

Author: Unknown

For countless ages, we winged ones have led the wingless ones. This is right and proper.
But we must always remember that they are no less valuable than
we. A body with no head cannot move. But neither can a body with no legs. All must function in unity if anything is to be achieved. So guide the wingless ones, and keep them from paths of error. But guide them with respect.
